

ClimateCaucus net

26128 Talamore Drive • South Riding • Virginia 20152

www.climatecaucus.net

Annual Report and Financial Statement for 2007

Annual Report: The 60th UN DPI/NGO Conference, adopted by acclamation a Declaration, CLIMATE CHANGE THREATS: AN NGO FRAMEWORK FOR ACTION, in which participants committed to work collaboratively over the next twelve months to prepare a report for the UN Secretary General. The Declaration strongly recommended that all sectors of society partner to implement concrete solutions based on recommendations that will emerge from the report. To be "climate-sensitive," the report was widely distributed by electronic means. It will also build upon, update, and further refine the exchange of views held during the 60TH DPI/NGO conference.

To develop this process, the DPI/NGO Executive Committee has established an Editorial Working Group, which began to draft a report to the Secretary General, created supporting working groups and a website (www.climatecaucus.net). By December 2007, by vote of the members, the Editorial Working Group took on the name Climate Caucus network.

Larry W. Roeder, Jr., MS, who led the drafting team for the Declaration, was elected Editor in Chief of the Editorial Working Group and then subsequently was elected Editor in Chief of Climate Caucus when its name was changed in December, 2007. Mr. Roeder was also the UN Affairs Director for WSPA, the World Society for the Protection of Animals. Headquarters for ClimateCaucus was voted to be 26128 Talamore Drive, South Riding, Virginia, 20152. The following officers were also elected by the membership to the Editorial Board, which acts as the Board of Directors: William Gellermann, Judy Lerner, Moki Kokoris, Scott Carlin, Jeffery Huffines, Richard Jordan and Larry Roeder.

Financial Report: $20,000 in expenses were incurred in order to conduct work by Climate Caucus in 2007; however, as the organization operated as an unincorporated voluntary body in Virginia, these costs were absorbed by members. As a result, no formal income was received by Climate Caucus in 2007, nor were any formal expenses.

Submitted: Larry Winter Roeder, Jr., MS

Editor in Chief. December 31, 2007

